The word Dinotopia is a portmanteau of "Dino (saurus)," which means "a terrible lizard" in Greek and "Utopia" (u+topos), in Greek, literally translating to "out of place." When combined, the title means "Out of place for a terrible lizard."

Dinotopia (TV Mini-Series 2002) - IMDb

Dinotopia is a series of illustrated fantasy books, created by author and illustrator James Gurney. It is set in the titular "Dinotopia", an isolated island inhabited by shipwrecked humans and sapient dinosaurs who have learned to coexist peacefully as a single symbiotic society.

Dinotopia - Wikipedia

For those who read and loved James Gurney's Dinotopia books, the miniseries was quite a letdown. With one dimensional characters, hammy acting (with the exception of David Thewlis), and a clunky script, it failed, even over a six hour period, to capture the magic Dinotopia is an amazing place, you journey through it with Will and his dad. Gurney's art truly makes it feel alive, like it is a place that you can visit by simply entering the books pages. The lore, locations, and technologies all feel realistic. Though, still with a sense of whimsy mixed in for good measure.
