BCBA Shares How to Build Tolerance for Face Coverings for Kids on the Spectrum. COVID-19 has led to many changes in daily life and routine. From "sheltering in place" to social distancing to wearing a face mask, it is a lot for anyone to absorb. These changes in routine can be especially challenging for children with autism spectrum disorder (ASD).

Tips to Help Children with Autism Wear Face Masks | Hopebridge

Step three is picture discrimination. Children with Autism will learn to pick from two or more pictures to ask for their favorite things. All of the pictures they use will be put into a book to make them more accessible for the user. Step four is sentence structure. Now children will learn to put the picture cards into short, simple sentences.
